A user has developed an application which is required to send the data to a NoSQL database.

The user wants to decouple the data sending such that the application keeps processing and sending data but does not wait for an acknowledgement of DB.

Which of the below mentioned applications helps in this scenario?

- A. AWS Simple Queue Service
- B. AWS Simple Workflow
- C. AWS Simple Query Service
- D. AWS Simple Notification Service

Answer: A

Explanation:

Amazon Simple Queue Service (SQS) is a fast, reliable, scalable, and fully managed message queuing service. SQS provides a simple and cost-effective way to decouple the components of an application. In this case, the user can use AWS SQS to send messages which are received from an application and sent to DB. The application can continue processing data without waiting for any acknowledgement from DB. The user can use SQS to transmit any volume of data without losing messages or requiring other services to always be available.

NEW QUESTION: 4

Which of the below mentioned options is not a best practice to securely manage the AWS access credentials?

- A. Create individual IAM users
- B. Enable MFA for privileged users
- C. Create strong access key and secret access key and attach to the root account

D. Keep rotating your secure access credentials at regular intervals

Answer: C

Explanation:

It is a recommended approach to avoid using the access and secret access keys of the root account. Thus, do not download or delete it. Instead make the IAM user as powerful as the root account and use its credentials. The user cannot generate their own access and secret access keys as they are always generated by AWS.
