DTL is measured at the rates expected to apply when it is realized or settled, based on tax laws and rates enacted or substantively enacted as of the balance sheet date. If different rates apply to different taxable profit levels, a DTA or DTL is measured based on the average rates expected to apply in the periods when the temporary differences are expected to reverse. The tax rate or tax base may vary with the manner of recovery or settlement. For example, one tax rate may apply if an asset is sold immediately and another may apply if it is to be recovered through continued use.
